

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE MILES MORGAN FAMILY

PREFACE.

In 1809 Dr. Titus Morgan of Middletown, North Society (now Cromwell), Connecticut, wrote for his own amusement a sketch of his branch of the Morgan family. The following pages are an enlargement of this work, brought down, in the direct line, to the descendants of his cousin and brother-in-law, Joseph Morgan, of West Springfield, Massachusetts, and Hartford, Connecticut. Although the work is not complete, it has been deemed best to print at this time the material collected, with the hope in the future of making the record more perfect.

To all those who in any manner have aided the compiler in this task he returns his sincere thanks.

FRANK FARNSWORTH STARR.

MIDDLETOWN, CONNECTICUT,
April, 1904.

It is a tradition among the descendants of MILES MORGAN that on the vessel which brought him from Old England to New England was a young woman named PRUDENCE GILBERT in whom he became interested, and that after his settlement at Springfield in the Massachusetts Bay Colony he made her an offer of marriage which was accepted. Whereupon he took a white man for a companion, an indian for a guide and a horse for the bride to ride upon and went to Salem or that vicinity in the same colony where she was living with relatives. Upon their marriage he returned to Springfield with his wife, which place became their permanent residence.

So far as is known, the earliest record in America relating to Miles Morgan is at Springfield where it is recorded that,—

"Mary Morgan daught^r to miles morgan borne 12 mon 14 day 1644./ about 9 a clocke in ye morning"¹

On the town records under date of January 8, 1645, is this entry,—

"George Colton and Miles Morgan are appoynted to doe theyre best to get a smith for y^e towne"²

Also on November 3, 1646,

"Robt. Ashly and Miles Morgan are chosen by y^e towne to y^e oversight of y^e fence of y^e howse lotts and y^e greate playne according as they shall be directed by y^e townsmen"³

William Pynchon was the leader in the settlement by the whites at Agawam and advanced the money for the purchase of the land from the indians. In memory of his English home the name of the plantation was very early changed to Springfield.

January 29th 1646. "It is alsoe Voted that ye 30^l wch is due to Mr Pynchon shall be rayseed on all ye alotments in y^e towne/ wch is due to him from each inhabitant for y^e purchas of y^e lands of y^e Plantation of y^e Indians /. to be rayseed wholly on lands /. and by y^e order a former order for rayeing 20^l is made voyd."

On page 53,

It may be of interest to the reader to know that this rate names the inhabitants in the order of their home lots commencing at the North end of Main Street and going South.

The reader will observe that in the foregoing rate, Miles was taxed on 34½ acres. This fact proves that in the following description of his lands as entered on leaf 18 of the "Record of Possessions" in the Springfield City Clerk's office, the first five pieces were granted to him before January 29, 1646.

"Miles Morgan is possessed of a howse Lot by the graunt of the Plantation with the additions viz: 3 acres more or less. Breadth. 18 rod. Length 26 rod. Bounded East by the highway. West by John Stebbins. & fronting to y^e wharfe way.¹

In the early days of the colonies, all the cattle of a town were pastured together, and it was therefore necessary that they should be marked so that each owner could identify his property and the marks were required by law to be recorded.

The mark for Miles Morgan's cattle was,— "two slits in y^e neere eare straite downe, one of y^m on one side of y^e tip of y^e eare, & y^e other slit on y^e other side of y^e tip of y^e Same

November 2, 1647, he was appointed one of the Surveyors of highways "for the upper end of the town," and also in November 1653, October 1654 and February 1665.¹

He took the oath of fidelity before Magistrate William Pynchon, February 6, 1648.²

In the various towns for many years from the early settlement of the colony and in some cases nearly down to 1800 the subject of seating or "dignifying" the meeting house was one of great importance. Committees appointed by the town assigned seats to the inhabitants according to their social rank and the value of their property. As an illustration we give the vote appointing such committee and the assignment of seats in 1659 and 1662, as recorded in Volume I of the Springfield Town Records, pages 62, 270 and 271.

"Decemb^r 27th 1649. There is (wth y^e Joynt consent of the Inhabitants) power given to the Select Townsmen and Deacons for the tyme beinge / and such as shall hereafter succede them: to order the seatinge of psons in y^e meeting howse as they in theyr discretion shall Judge most meete /."

At the town meetings held in November 1651 and '58 he was elected and at the meetings of the Selectmen in February 1665, '70, '73, '74, '76 and '85 he was appointed Fence viewer.¹

In November 1655 and '57, February 1659, '61 and '67 he was appointed Townsman later called Selectmen,² and in February 1662 was chosen Constable.³

The records of the Selectmen for April 7, 1669 show that

"Miles Morgan & Jonath Burt are ordered to sit vp in y^e Gallery to give a check to disorders in youth & young men In tyme of Gods worship."⁴

In February 1680 and March 1692 he was appointed Tithingman.⁵

The military companies of the various towns, and especially those in the valley of the Connecticut, were important factors in their government, and necessary for the safety of the inhabitants. Laws were passed at a very early date in regard to the organization and drilling of the troops, and very few persons were exempt from military duty. In speaking or writing about persons who held office it was customary to mention their title or rank, and in the town votes under date of November 2, 1658, mention is made of Sergeant Morgan.¹

Just when he was elected to this office we do not know but on the records of the Hampshire County Court is found this entry,—

"Northampton the 11th of the 4th Mon: 1662"

"The Court taking into consideration the desires of y^e Trayned Band of Springfield thought fitt to confirm & ratify the Choyce of the Souldery There: And therefore Doe accordingly declare That Samuell Marshfeild is & shalbe the Clark of the Trayned Band at Springfield: And that Thomas Stebbins is & shalbe their Eldest Serjeant: And Miles Morgan their Second Serjeant:"²

Notwithstanding all the precautions against an attack by the Indians the inhabitants of Springfield suffered therefrom in the early morning of October 5, 1675.

John Pynchon writing to Rev. John Russell, Pastor of the Church at Hadley, said,—

"Reverend Sr

Springfeild oct. 8. 1675

I desyred M^r Russell to give yo^m an acc^t of y^e sore stroake vpon Pore distressed Springfeild, w^{ch} I hope will excuse my late doeing of it: on y^e. 4th. of oct o^r soldiers w^{ch} were at Springfeild, I had called all off: Leaving none to secure y^e Towne bec y^e Comisioners order was so strict: That Night Post was sent to vs that. 500. Indians were about Springfeild intending to destroy it so y^t: y^e. 5th. of oct wth about 200 of o^r soldiers I marched downe to Springfeild where we found all in flames about. 30. dwelling houses burnt downe &. 24. or. 25. Barnes my Corne Mill saw mill & other Buildings: Generally mens hay & Corne is Burnt & many men whose houses stand had their goods burnt in other houses w^{ch} they had caryd y^m too:

Leivt Cooper &. 2 more slayne &. 4. psons wounded. 2. of w^{ch} are doubtfull their Recovery The Ld hath made vs to drink deepe of the cup of sorrow, I desire we may consider y^e opperation of his hand, & what he speakes yet That y^e Towne did not vtterly prish is cause of grt Thankfullness: Assoone as o^r forces appeared y^e Indians all drew off, so y^t we saw none of y^m: sent out Scouts y^t Night & y^e next day but discovered none, neither can we sattisfie o^rselves w^{ch} way they are gon there Tracts being many ways: som^t we think they are gon downe y^e River o^r last discovery was of a Considerable Tract vpward: o^r Indcavors here are to secure y^e houses & Corne

y^t is left: for this sad Providence hath obstructed o^r goeing out wth y^e Army & w^t can be done I am at a gr^t loss: o^r People are vnder gr^t discouragem^t Talke of Leaving y^e Place, we need yo^r orders & direction about it If it be deserted how wofully doe we yeild to & Incourage o^r Insolent enmy & how doth it make way for y^e giving vp of all y^e Townes above: If it be held it must be by strength & many soldiers, & how to haue Provision. I meane Bread for want of a Mill Is difficult: y^e soldiers here already Complaine on y^t aco^t although we haue flesh enough: & this very strait I meane noe Mill will drive many of o^r Inhabitants away especially those y^t haue noe Corne, & many of them noe houses w^{ch} fills & throngs vp every Roome of those y^t haue, togethir wth y^e soldiers now (w^{ch} yet we cannot be w^{thout}) increasing o^r Numbbes: so y^t Indeed It is very vncomfortable Living here, & for my owne pticular it were far better for me to goe away bec here I haue not any thing Left I meane noe Corne neither Indian nor english & noe meanes to keepe one beast here nor can I haue Releife in this Towne because so many are destitute: .But I resolve to attend what God Calls me to, & to stick to it as long as I can & though I haue such gr^t loss of my Comforts yet to doe what I can for defending y^e Place. I hope God will make vp in himselfe what is wanting in y^e creature to mee & to vs all: This day a Post is sent vp fro Hartford to call off Major Treate wth a p^t of his soldiers: from Intelligence they haue of a pty of Indians lying ag^t wethersfeild on y^e East side of y^e River so y^t matters of action here doe Linger exceedingly w^{ch} makes me wonder what y^e Ld Intends wth his People strange Providences diverting vs in all o^r hopefull designes: & y^e Ld giving opportunity to y^e Enmy to doe vs mischeife & then hiding of y^m And answering all o^r Prayers by Terrible things in righteousness S^r I am not Capable of holding any Comand, being more & more vnfit & almost Confounded in my vnderstanding: the Ld direct y^o to Pitch on a meeter pson then ever I was: according to Liberty fro y^e Councell I shall devolve all vpon Cap^t Appleton vnless Major Treate retorne againe till yo shall give yo^r orders as shal be most meete to yo^rselves:

To speake my thoughts all these Townes ought to be Garrisoned, as I haue formerly hinted & had I bin left to my selfe I should I thinke haue done y^t w^{ch} Posibly might haue pvented this damage But y^e express order to doe as I did, was by y^e wise dispesing hand of God who knew it best for vs. & there in we must acquiesc And trully to goe out after y^e Indians in y^e swamps & Thickets is to hassard all o^r men vnless we knew where they keepe: w^{ch} is altogether vnknowne to vs, & God hides fr^o vs for ends best knowne to himselfe

I haue many tymes thought y^t y^e winter were y^e tyme to fall on y^m but there are such difficultys y^t I shall leave it yet suggest it to

Consideration, I will not further 'Trobble yo at psent but earnestly crave yo^r Prayers for y^e Lds vndertaking for vs & sanctifying all

Dr. Titus Morgan of Middletown, Conn., in a sketch of his ancestor Miles Morgan written in 1809, says,—

"In 1675 Springfield was attacked by the Indians. who burnt a considerable part of the town. A few fortified houses only, in which the people were mostly collected, escaped the conflagration. In Morgan's house a number of people had taken refuge. A party of Indians attacked the house, but their fire was returned with such spirit and success by those within, several of whom were keen marksmen, that the assailants found it dangerous to appear in sight of the windows and loopholes, and after some hours were glad to sheer off."

A few months later the town received another visit from the Indians, as shown by the following,—

Hadley March 28th 1676

"Honored Sir,

my last to yo^rselues of 24th instant I hope is come to yo^r handes, since w^{ch} I rec^d yo^rs of y^e 14th and 20th instant w^{ch} came to my hands on Sabbath day last in the morning, the Supplyes of one hundred and fifty men therein mentioned would haue been very acceptable, Conecticot forces being wholly withdrawne and are gone home, and o^r number being now But small; the good lord Blesse them and sende them good Succes that are gone to Groton &c. I shall do my Best endeavour to discover the enemy by Sending forth o^r Scouts according as you advise, But haue no Indians to goe forth with o^r Scouts But only those six that came out with us, who are unacquainted with these woods, Conecticot Indians being all gone with Major Treate, they would not be perswaded to stay. I haue signified to the severall townes here yo^r ord^r and advice aboute gathering themselues together into a nearer compas for their own defence and Security of planting, only I haue not yet spoken to Springfeild because I expect major pinchon vp this day to North Hampton at a Court there, where I intend to propose it, and also speake to him aboute the amunition you mention in yo^r Letter. I both haue and shall be carefull aboute the unnessisary wast of powd^r: as for James Taylor that you mention you haue sent up who was a Captiue with the Indians, who might haue been of greate use to us, is not come vp, neither can I heare where he is: Cap^t poole is now comeing downe according to yo^r order. on the 26th instant at night we had advice from Springfield that Eight Indians assaulted 16 or 18 men besids weomen and children as they were goeing to meeting, from a place they calle longe meadow, and killed a man and a maide wounded 2 men and carryed away Captiue 2 weomen & 2 children, they sent some after them w^{ch} did returne that night without discovering of them, in the night haueing advice from maj^r pinchon w^{ch} way the Indians, with the Captiues were marcht. I sent out 16 horse in pursuit of them who met with some that were sent from Springfield, and over tooke the Indians with the Captiues, who as soone as they saw the English killed the two children and sorely wounded the weomen in the heads with their hatchets, and so ran away into a swamp where they could not follow them; the scouts brought back both the weomen & the children, one of the weomen remaines still senceles by reason of her wounds, the other is very sencible and rationally, and doth say that the Indians were very free in theire speech to them that night they were with them, and tould them that they should goe to Dearefeild where the nashuway Captiues were, and tould them that there was 3000 Indians at Dearefeild, and that they did not want for powd^r they could haue enough from the Dutch, and that there was two Dutchmen with them that had brought 4 Bush^{ls} of powd^r and went from them but two days since: the names of them as they tould her was one Jerrard and the other Jacob that lived wth major pinch who are dwell^{rs} at fort Albany and 2 dutch men more they say also that there is 300 at Squakheage, an that they haue built 300 wigwams aboue Dearefeild and that some ffrench were lately with them, who perswade them not to burne and destroy the houses but to make what slaughter they can of the people, because they intend to come and inhabit them; she ses alsoe that the Dutch bringe theire powd^r on horses and that they intend to com againe wth another supply within few dayes, and that they doe intend to fall on these Townes shortly. and that they were very inquisitiue to know the number of o^r men, w^{ch} the weomen did informe them as neare as they could, and that Conecticot forces were gone, we do intend to send post downe to Hartford to the Councell there informing them hercof and desire theire assistance; I would request as speedy advice as may be aboute these things and if possible assistance, not Elce but beg yo^r hono^rs prayres for us and that god almighty would be with you in all yo^r weighty Consultations to giue succes thereto, I take leaue and remaine, Yo^r hono^rs most humble Servant

as yet there is not any certainty of what provisions we can haue from these Townes, but I feare not so much as is Expected. the woman ses that the Indians tould her that Cap^t Tom of natuck & the rest of them Indians with him were come last weeke to Dearefeild and that they do intend to make that their head Quarters. and that the mohauge had killed some of their Indians, but that they had made peace with them againe"¹

As a prevention against further destruction of the town, Miles Morgan was, in February 1678, appointed one of a committee to oversee the fortifying of the minister's house.²

Undoubtedly on account of his age and perhaps because of some bodily infirmity, at a session of the Hampshire County Court held March 25, 1684, he was "freed from military Exercises," and at a session of the Court held September 28, 1686, this exemption was continued.³

April 7, 1669, in consideration of love and favor, Miles conveyed to his son-in-law Edmund Pringredayes and Mary his wife six acres of land on the West side of the "Great River," below the plain called Chicopee plain, which had been granted to him by the town for a house lot.⁴

To his son Isaac, he gave, February 25, 1685, seven and one half acres of land at the upper end of Springfield, which was bounded West by the Round hill.⁵

November 2, 1696, Miles gave to his youngest son Nathaniel two pieces of land on the West side of the "Great River," one of forty acres in Chicopee field and the other of seven acres in the House Meadow at Agawam "In Consideration of the Sum of Six pound p^r: Year Dureing

"SERJ^A MILES MORGAN and ELIZABETH BLISS" were married by John Pynchon, Magistrate, at Springfield February 15, 1669.³

She was a daughter of Thomas and Margaret () Bliss of Hartford, Connecticut.

"Miles Morgan dyed the 28th day of May 1699,"⁴ age unknown.

There is no record of the date of death of his wife Elizabeth.

Widow Margaret Bliss of Springfield made her will June 25, 1684 which was probated September 30 following.⁵ In it she made a bequest of £3 to her grandson Nathaniel Morgan only child of her daughter Elizabeth (Bliss) Morgan. Is it not reasonable to infer that Elizabeth had died previous to the date of this will?

Miles and his two wives were probably buried in the first graveyard of Springfield, which was located at the foot of Elm street near the Connecticut river. The railroad between Hartford and Springfield being laid out through this yard necessitated the removal of all the bodies in 1848, most of them being reinterred in the Springfield Cemetery near Pine street. The graves of these three not being marked by stones, all knowledge as to the precise location of their resting place is forever lost.

The following, relating to the settlement of the estate of Miles Morgan, are copied from the original documents on

On page 249, of Volume C. of old Hampshire County Deeds is entered a conveyance dated November 2, 1696 of which the following is an extract.

"To all Christian People unto this Present deed Shall Come Miles Morgen of the Town of Springfield in the province of the Massachusetts bay in New England Send Greeting: Know yee that for & In Consideration of the Sum of Six pound p^r: Year Dureing the aboves^d: Miles, morgen^a: life paying him Soe Yearly in Grain or money by Nathaniel Morgen of the Afores^d: Town, That is the aboves^d: Nathaniel Morgen is to pay the Six pound p^r: Year in grain or Silver which he the s^d: Nathaniel Morgen Shall See Cause That is In Either of the S^d: Species, The then aboves^d: Miles Morgen by These Presents have given granted Enfeoffed set over & Confirmed and by These presents Doe freely fully & absolutely give grant Release Enfeoffe set over & Confirme, unto the afores^d: Nathaniel Morgen his heirs & assigns for Ever The Tracts and parcell of land hereafter mentioned & Described lying & being within The Township of Springfield, That is to Say, one Tract or parcell of land, being on the west Side of The great River, in the field Commonly Called Chickape field, Containing by Estimation forty acres, being In length about a hundred and Sixty Rod or thereabouts, and Thirty three Rod In Breadth, or however be the Same more or less, Bounded Easterly by the Great River, westerly by The field fence Northerly by Joseph Stebbins, Southerly by the land of Joseph Darby, alsoe a tract or piece of land being on the west Side of the Great River at agawam, In the Meadow, Commonly Called house meadow, being by Estimation about Seven acres more or less Bounded as in the Town Records Reference to be had, or however otherwise the Same is bounded or reputed to be Bounded:"

The witnesses to this deed were Pelatiah Glover, Pelatiah Morgen and Samuel Lamb.

In the agreement regarding the settlement of his father's estate (see page 25), Nathaniel was to receive as his share "the forty acre Lot in Chickuppi Plaine on the West side the great River & the meadow at the Lower End of the house meadow."

This is evidently the same property conveyed to Nathaniel in the deed just before mentioned and which was subject to the payment by Nathaniel to his father of six pounds a year during the latter's life. From the terms of the agreement it would appear that Nathaniel did not receive anything further from the estate.

How early he removed to the West side of the Connecticut river cannot be determined. The records of the West Parish of Springfield, later the First Parish of West Springfield, are extant from April 1707. From these records we learn that on April 7, 1707, "the Inhabitants on the West side of the great River" passed votes regarding the division of the lands among themselves. A list of these inhabitants, seventy-three in number, is entered upon the record, the tenth name being that of Nathaniel Morgan. These facts prove that his removal from the East to the West side took place before April, 1707.

By the votes before referred to the lands on the West side of the Connecticut were divided into three sections, "one Below aggowam river, one from the top of the hill next to aggowam River to Run to dorbeys Brook and the next division to begin at dorbeys brook and so to extend to the end of the land given by the town." The "chickeby lots above Dobeys Brook" contained ten acres each and lot number seventeen was drawn by Nathaniel Morgan.¹

About 1717 the authorities of the Province of Massachusetts Bay appointed commissioners to superintend the issuing of £100,000 in province bills.

May 29, 1717, Nathaniel Morgan made a mortgage for £30 to these commissioners of twenty acres of land in "Chickopee Field," bounded Northerly by land of Benjamin Stebbins, Easterly by the Great river, Southerly by land of John Worthenton and Westerly by a steep brow of a hill about 100 yards from the Great river.²

In January 1716-17, he sold to Pelatiah Morgan thirty-two acres, towards the upper end of Chickopee field on the West side of the Great river, which formerly belonged to Edmund Pringredays deceased. In the deed he warrants the land against all claims which might be made by himself and the heirs of Nicholas Rust of Springfield, deceased.³

In consideration of "Natural Love Goodwill and affection" he deeded, March 24, 1736-7, to his son Miles, eight acres of land, with a house and other buildings thereon, at "Chickoby" on the West side of the Connecticut.¹ And five days later for the same consideration he deeded to his seven sons various pieces of land on the same side of the river.

To Nathaniel Jr. was given, the North half of his lot at "Chickoby" on the West side of the country road, also six acres in "Chickoby" field.²

To Samuel, the home lot of eight acres where Samuel lived bounded Southerly on the highway, also seven acres a little North of said home lot, three acres in "Chickoby" field bounded East on the Great River and three acres in his lot on the West side of the highway in the said field.³

To Ebenezer, seven acres adjoining the home lot given to Samuel, seven acres "without the field" and six acres in his "Chickoby" field lot.⁴

Miles was given six acres in "Chickoby" field.⁴

Joseph received six acres in "Chickoby" field lot.⁵

James was given six acres in "Chickoby" field.⁶

Isaac, the youngest son, received Nathaniel's homestead of three acres and buildings, bounded Northerly on the highway, Easterly on land of Thomas Miller, Southerly on land of Pelatiah Morgan and Westerly on the country road. Ten acres of a lot upon the hill bounded Westerly by the highway, and two pieces of three acres each in his "Chickoby" field lot.⁷

In almost every instance Nathaniel reserved the life use of the property conveyed by these deeds.

The land records do not disclose any deeds to, or provision for, Nathaniel's two daughters and the inference is that they were given personal property as was the custom in those days.

These conveyances obviated the settlement of his estate

JOSEPH MORGAN (Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born in Springfield, December 3, 1702.¹ He was a "Sentinel" or private in the company of Capt. Josiah Kellogg of Suffield, and served from November 24, 1723, to February 1, 1724, receiving £5 as his pay for the ten weeks service.² He was a private in the company of Capt. Samuel Wright, serving at Brookfield from June 22 to October 31, 1725, receiving £9-8-6, for his services.³

In civil life he was elected to the offices of Fence viewer, March 1729-30,⁴ Constable, March 1730-31,⁵ and Surveyor of highways, March 1760.⁶

On the records of the Fifth or North parish in Springfield, now preserved in the City Clerk's office at Chicopee, are found the following entries but whether they relate to this Joseph Morgan, or to his son Joseph Jr, is not known.

March 1767, chosen one of the committee to seat the meeting house. March 1768, '71 and '72 chosen one of the Parish committee and in March 1770 and '73 Assessor.

On the West Springfield Parish records, under date of "March y^e 9: 1726," we find that it was

"Voated to give Liberty to hezekiah day James baag Joseph day Josiah Leniard Jn^r Joseph Morigin Joseph merick and John dumbilton to build a seat at the Eastly Corner of y^e meeting house ouer the stars y^t go^s up to y^e Galery prouided it do not any way hender y^e buelding stairs aboue yf ocasion bee they to have no liberty of desposing of y^e same"⁷

Joseph was thirty-two years old when he married July 16, 1735, MARY STEBBINS, born June 25, 1713,¹ daughter of Benjamin and Martha (Ball) Stebbins² of Springfield.

Joseph Morgan's occupation was that of a weaver and farmer.³ He dealt considerably in real estate, owning land at Tattum, Block Bridge, Newfield, Presumption, Westfield Path, Falls Woods and elsewhere.

March 29, 1737, for "Natureall Love, Good Will and affection" his father conveyed to him six acres "part of my Field Lot, lying in Chickoby Field on the West side of Connecticut River bounded Northerly on land of Benj^a Stebbins Easterly on land given my son Nath^l Southerly on land of John Worthington Westerly on land given my son James" reserving to himself the life use of the property.⁴

October 1, 1763, Joseph conveyed to his son Titus thirteen acres of land with the house thereon situated on the East side of the country road "in the Newfield between Northampton landing place and Northampton line."⁵

In 1765, Joseph resided in the Fourth parish on a farm of 200 acres which, with the exception of the buildings, he mortgaged on June 21 of that year to Martha Salisbury of Boston for £180. This property was bounded Northerly on Northampton bounds, Easterly on Connecticut river, Southerly on land formerly of Abel Stockwell and on land of Benjamin Ely and Westerly on the country road.⁶

For some cause now unknown he was unable to redeem the property and surrendered possession to the mortgagee in July 1769.⁷ By various conveyances this tract came into the possession of his son Titus in June 1780.⁸

The loss of this farm only four years prior to his death is perhaps the reason why there does not appear upon the records of the Hampshire County Probate Court any settlement of Joseph Morgan's estate.

JOSEPH MORGAN (Joseph 3, Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born February 19, 1735-6¹⁰ in the West parish of Springfield which later was made the town of West Springfield. At the age of nineteen he enlisted for the defence of the colonies, serving in the company of Captain Benjamin Day from September 15 to December 9, 1755, receiving £4-01-11 pay for the service of 12 weeks and 2 days.¹¹ He also served in the expedition for the reduction of Canada, from April 11 to October 28, 1758, receiving £16 pay and retiring from the campaign with the rank of Sergeant.¹² The following year he served in the Canada campaign from April

2 to December 1, in the company of Captain John Bancroft, receiving £15-13-09.¹

On his gravestone, erected evidently soon after his death, it is stated that he "was captured & included in the capitulation of Fort W^m Henry Aug^t, 1757."

On the West Springfield Town records under date of March 2, 1776, he is referred to as Lieutenant Joseph Morgan.² Unfortunately the record of his appointment to this office has not been preserved.

April 26, 1776 he was elected Captain of the 8th Company in the 3rd Regiment of the militia for Hampshire County, John Moseley being Colonel of the regiment.³

Captain Joseph Morgan marched with ten men from his company in the regiment commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Timothy Robinson of Granville which went from West Springfield to Ticonderoga to reinforce the Northern army. He was in service 28 days from October 21 to November 17, 1776.⁴

His brother Lucas Morgan served in this company for the same length of time.

Captain Joseph Morgan with his company in the regiment commanded by Colonel John Moseley served from September 21 to October 17, 1777 on an expedition in the Northern department.⁵

Lucas and Jesse Morgan also served in this company for the same period.

In civil life Joseph Morgan was one of the most important men in West Springfield. He was elected Constable in March 1768;⁶ Surveyor of highways in March 1772,⁷ April 1790 and '99;⁸ Assessor March 1776, '77, '84, '95, '96 and November 19, 1764 he purchased of the Proprietors of common lands 100 acres on the West side of the Connecticut river near Northampton bounds, for which he paid £37-10s.¹⁰ This property was bounded East by the country road leading to Northampton, 76½ rods, West on the outward commons, South on land of Thomas Miller and North on land which was sold in September 1774 to Lucas Morgan by the town of West Springfield. This appears to have been his home for the remainder of his life.

He married, September 9, 1765,¹¹ EXPERIENCE SMITH, born in Suffield, Connecticut, November 13, 1741, daughter of David and Experience (Chapin) Smith.¹²

After providing for his wife Experience he made bequests to his four daughters Eurydice, Huldah, Achsah and Nancy and gave all his real estate to his son Joseph Morgan Jr.¹ As there was no inventory filed with the Probate Court the value of the estate which he left is not known.

Joseph Morgan died December 18, 1813, in his seventy-eighth year.

His widow Experience (Smith) Morgan died March 24, 1821, in her eightieth year. They were buried in the Ireland graveyard now known as Elmwood Cemetery, Holyoke, where their gravestones are still standing inscribed as follows.

JOSEPH MORGAN (Joseph 4, Joseph 3, Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born at the family residence on Northampton road in the North Parish of West Springfield, January 4, 1780. His early life was spent upon his father's farm. From the time he was fifteen years old he devoted his winters for several years to teaching school. When Joseph was twenty-three his father died, bequeathing to him the farm of 112 acres on the Northampton road, and other property amounting to about $11,000. Joseph continued to reside on the farm until 1815, and he owned it until 1821. March 1 of that year he sold it, together with thirty acres on the East side of the highway, to Luther Frink for $4400. Forty-eight acres of this farm, now a part of the city of Holyoke and bounded East by Northampton Street, are owned by Ernest Lovering and the estate of Austin D. Street.

The site of the Morgan house is a few feet North of the Street residence.

Joseph Morgan married in the North Society of Middletown (now the town of Cromwell), Connecticut, September 20, 1807, SALLY SPENCER born April 8, 1787 daughter of Samuel and Martha (Eells) Spencer of that place.

In January 1815 he purchased from Asa Goodenough of Westfield, Massachusetts, for $10,000 his stage line and tavern on the West side of the Green in that town, to which place Joseph soon removed and engaged in the hotel business.

In November 1816 he purchased for $16,000 from Eliakim Hitchcock and Joseph G. Norton their brick house and barn on the North side of State street in the City of Hartford, Connecticut. Removing thereto he opened the Exchange Coffee House January 1, 1817, and in June of that year he sold the Westfield property to his cousin Archippus Morgan. He kept the Coffee house until April 1829. On the tenth of that month he sold the property to Selah Treat for $20,000, and immediately taking a lease of the City Hotel he removed thereto which he opened for business on the fourth of May.

November 2, 1835 he sold the lease and furniture of this hotel to John Warburton and Parsons Rose and retired from hotel life.

In September 1833 he purchased from George Brinley for $1250 a piece of land fifty feet wide on the south side of Asylum Street. On this property Mr. Morgan erected a dwelling house which was known as number 26 Asylum Street and to which he removed from the City Hotel. Here he resided for the rest of his life.

As a diversion from the cares of his regular business he interested himself in farming and stock raising. In April 1818, he purchased for $6,000, two tracts of land on the North side of the Farmington road. The first piece contained eight acres and was bounded North on the highway leading past the Asylum and South on the Farmington turnpike, West by highway now Sigourney Street, and extended Easterly a little beyond the East line of Flower Street. The second piece contained forty-six and one half acres and was bounded East by Sigourney Street, and South by Farmington Turnpike. To this last piece he made an addition of ten acres which continued the South line West-erly on Farmington Avenue to Woods river. The North line being about where Nile Street now runs and extending West to the river.

In July 1825 he purchased from the Hartford Bank sixteen acres and twenty-six rods bounded West on Woods river with a right of way over the bank's land on the South to the East and West highway, now known as Asylum Avenue. The laying out of Woodland Street would have divided this last property into two parts except for the fact that in 1845 he sold the Eastern four acres to Amos M. Collins. Normand Smith sold to him in April 1844 fifteen and one fourth acres North of the Westerly portion of this piece. He also owned five acres on the Northwest corner of Asylum Avenue and Sigourney Street, sixteen acres on the West side of Garden Street adjoining the Town farm and various pieces in the North meadow.

Owing to dissatisfaction with the management of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company it was determined to organize another company. A meeting for that purpose was held at Morgan's Coffee House, where the organization was effected and the new corporation named "The Aetna Insurance Company." At the election of officers on June 17, 1819, Mr. Morgan became one of the directors and was continued in office until his death.

The first policy issued by the Company was for $6,000 and the risk was taken on his State Street property. This document is still preserved as an interesting souvenir of the early history of the Company. For many years it was customary for the Directors to personally investigate the company's risks and losses. At various dates from 1836 Mr. Morgan made long trips on this business. In November 1837 he went to St. Johns, New Brunswick, was absent three weeks and travelled 1100 miles entirely by stage and steamboat, except on the railroad between Worcester and Boston. In April 1840 he went to Norfolk and Portsmouth, Virginia, and Wilmington, North Carolina. He returned by the way of Petersburg, Richmond and Fredericksburg, where he visited the grave of General Washington's mother. Two other trips were made this year in the company's behalf.

April 21, 1842 he left home on another trip, returning June 30. He went to New York, Trenton, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Wheeling, Zanesville, Chillicothe, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati. While at the latter place he visited Lane Seminary, of which Dr. Lyman Beecher was the President. At Cincinnati he took the boat for Louisville and soon passed North Bend, Ohio, the home and burial place of President William H. Harrison, which he saw in the distance. From Louisville he went to Frankfort and Lexington, where he visited Ashland, the residence of Henry Clay, "and had the pleasure of shaking our next president by the hand." Returning to Louisville he took the steamboat on Wednesday, May 18, at 10.15 A. M. for Natchez.

In his diary under date of May 22 is this entry,—

"Sunday. It is seldom I record a Sabbath without noticing my going to Church some part of it, but today it was out of my power I could not land without it was on a plantation of negroes. I have spent considerable of it in my stateroom, altho' warm yet by opening my door and window I could get a current of air. The change since Friday morning is very great from cool to hot. The heat before has not been uncomfortable since I left home but 800 miles in 2½ days from mouth of Ohio river makes a wonderful change. I am now 9 o'clock P. M. comfortably stowed away in No. 42 City Hotel, Natchez, kept by Mr. Donnel a very large and I should think a very comfortable & well kept hotel. I arrived here about 6 this afternoon. The country thro which we have passed today has been pleasanter. Large plantations of cotton and corn with the owners or overseers house & generally about a dozen negro houses all white washed made from the river a very pleasant appearance."

While at Natchez he makes this entry in his diary.

"I am now 5 P. M. waiting for a boat to come along for N. Orleans. If none comes before morning I shall take the first good boat up the river as I cannot spare the time."

The boat for New Orleans did not come along until 10 o'clock the next morning and arrived at LaFayette, one and one-half miles above the center of New Orleans, at 9 A. M. the following day. Upon completing his business in this city he took a steamboat up the river, but owing to striking sand bars, breaking one of the paddle wheels, injuries to different parts of the machinery and delays occasioned by fog, it took from 3 P. M. on Thursday until 6.30 P. M. on Sunday to get to Vicksburg and until 4 A. M. of Monday to reach St. Louis. He was much pleased with the appearance of the city and saw fifty steamboats lying in the river. Here he left the river and went across the country to Springfield and Peoria, Illinois. From thence by steamboat and stage to Chicago, a place of 5000 inhabitants, where he took the steamer for Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo. After visiting Toronto he came East, stopping at Lockport, Rochester, Auburn, Syracuse, Utica and Albany.

"Thus having performed a journey of 6099 miles in 10 weeks, viz; 4330 by S. Boats 743 in Stage Coaches, 716 on Railroads and 310 in Canal Packet Boats. The whole legitimate expense of which $3.83 for every 100 miles including Board &c, it being pr day for every expense $3.29 & being for every 24 hours including lying still &c about 83 miles travel."

In August 1843 he made a trip to Brattleboro, Windsor, Montpelier and Burlington, Vermont; Montreal, Ogdensburg, Kingston, Toronto and Rochester.

July 1844 he went through Central New York, Southern and Central Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky (again calling on Mr. Clay), Ohio, Western Virginia and Maryland and was absent nine weeks.

In June 1845 he made a trip to Halifax, Nova Scotia and St. Johns, New Brunswick; which seems to have been his last journey of any length on insurance business.

At the City elections held in March 1827, '28, '29 and 1836 he was chosen one of the Common Councilmen. At the Annual Town meeting held in November 1843, he was chosen as one of the Selectmen, to which position he was re-elected and died in office.

In July 1835 books were opened for subscriptions to the stock of a railroad to be built between New Haven and Hartford and Mr. Morgan subscribed for 100 shares.

In 1839, he subscribed to the fund of the Young Men's Institute. In 1841 he gave $200 towards the building fund of the Wadsworth Atheneum and was named as one of its Corporators in the Charter which was granted by the General Assembly in 1842.

At the time of his death he was a member of the Connecticut Historical Society, having been elected May 8, 1840.

From twelve years of age until within three weeks of his death he kept a diary which is interesting reading and has been of great assistance in compiling this work.

Joseph Morgan died at his residence, 26 Asylum Street, Hartford, Conn., July 23, 1847, aged 67 years, leaving an estate of $102,330.10, of which $72,762 was in real estate.

Mrs. Sarah Morgan was a Director of the Hartford Orphan Asylum and one of the Managers of the Female Beneficent Society from 1842 until her death.

Mrs. Sarah (Spencer) Morgan continued to reside at the homestead, where she died August 6, 1859, aged 72 years.

The following lines, written by Mrs. Lydia Huntley Sigourney, appeared shortly after Mrs. Morgan's death.

MARY MORGAN (Joseph 5, Joseph 4, Joseph 3, Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born at the family residence on the Northampton road, in the North parish of the town of West Springfield, now the city of Holyoke, Massachusetts, November 19, 1808, and was baptized May 17, 1812.

In 1815 as a member of her father's family she removed to Westfield and in January 1817 to Hartford, Connecticut.

In 1828 she completed her education at Mrs. Emma Willard's School, Troy, New York. In her father's diary we find this entry under date of Monday July 16, 1832,— "My daughter Mary married, 9 o'clock A. M. to James A. Smith who is an ordained minister at Great Falls N. H. and left immediately for that place."

JAMES ALLWOOD SMITH, seventh child and fourth son of Normand and Mary (Boardman) Smith, was born in the City of Hartford, Connecticut, November 6, 1806. He attended the Market Street and Hopkins Grammar Schools, remaining at the latter until sixteen years old. He then entered Yale College and graduated with honors in the class of 1826. Upon graduation, he became one of the Principals of the Union Academy, at New London, remaining there for two years.

It will be remembered that Nathan Hale the "Martyr Spy" was an instructor at this institution when he entered the army in the summer of 1775.

In the fall of 1828 Mr. Smith entered the theological seminary at Andover, Massachusetts, where he remained until the spring of 1830. He then went to New Haven and continued his theological studies under Rev. Nathaniel W. Taylor, D.D.

In the summer or early fall of 1831 he commenced his ministerial duties at Great Falls, New Hampshire. On the 17th of April, 1832, he was ordained as the pastor of the Congregational Church of that place. Owing to the ill health of his wife he resigned his pastorate on the 17th of July 1837 and returned to Connecticut.

He immediately began to preach in the town of Glastonbury, and on the sixth of December 1837 was installed over the First Congregational Church in that town. Here he remained until January 1858.

From January 1859 until May 1863 he was in charge of the Congregational Church in the village of Unionville, in the town of Farmington.

This village became his permanent and final residence.

Rev. James A. Smith died at Unionville, April 15, 1882, at the age of seventy-five, lacking only three months of fifty years of married life.

Mrs. Mary (Morgan) Smith died at Unionville, October 6, 1897, lacking only a few weeks of being eighty-nine years of age.

LUCY MORGAN (Joseph 5, Joseph 4, Joseph 3, Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born at the homestead on Northampton road in the North Parish of West Springfield, now the city of Holyoke, Massachusetts, February 4, 1811. With her parents she removed to Hartford, Connecticut, in 1817 and was educated at Mrs. Emma Willard's School in Troy, New York.

She married July 30, 1832, JAMES GOODWIN, JR. son of James and Eunice (Roberts) Goodwin of Hartford, Connecticut, where he was born March 2, 1803.

James Goodwin, Jr. was one of the prominent business men of Hartford, a director in many of its institutions and for nearly thirty years President of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. He died suddenly March 15, 1878.

Lucy Morgan Goodwin died September 19, 1890. The following tribute is by one who knew her long and intimately,—

"Removing to Hartford at an early age, Mrs. Goodwin's life was passed in that community; and to all who knew it, it stands as the ideal life of a Christian gentlewoman. Modest, and shunning all publicity and unnecessary prominence in action, she was everywhere conspicuous for the virtues and graces that best illustrate the highest and most fruitful type of Christian character in admirable balance; a clear, calm intelligence, simplicity, refinement, and strength, and a broad and tender charity blended in a wonderful harmony, and were animated by a most devout and unaffected piety. Clear and steadfast in her judgments of right and wrong, she was pitiful to those in error, and solicitous to relieve every suffering. Her religious faith was marked by deep, mature conviction and the trust of a loving child. It was the key to every aspect of her life.

"She knew and was interested in the best thought and action of her time for bettering all men, and especially alive to all that affected her own country. She was concerned in every good work. She was a life-long communicant of Christ Church, and prominent in all its charitable work and agencies. With her daughter Mary, she gave to it the chapel and parish building. She was one of the managers of the Hartford Orphan Asylum and its treasurer for more than thirty years. The Hartford Hospital, the Union for Home Work, and indeed every charitable institution of Hartford had her lively sympathy, her willing efforts, and her constant support. Her charities began at home, but went out into all the world of need, spiritual, mental, and physical. Her public benefactions were many and well known, among the latest of which was her munificent gift to the Hartford Free Library.

"Greater than all that can be enumerated were the ceaseless daily acts of wise, tender helpfulness, Christ-like loving-kindness, to all with whom her wide acquaintance brought her in contact, and who made welcome opportunity to her great wealth and loving heart. Said a poor man a few hours after her departure, 'It is a bad day for the poor.'

"She was the perfect friend; wonderfully winning, loving, interested, keenly and wisely sympathetic, and unalterably staunch. She was the constant dispenser of an unostentatious, gracious hospitality. She was in her community a conspicuous centre of its highest influences and best usefulness."—J. L. Greene.

JUNIUS SPENCER MORGAN (Joseph 5, Joseph 4, Joseph 3, Nathaniel 2, Miles 1) was born at the family residence on Northampton road in that part of the town of West Springfield, Massachusetts, which is now the city of Holyoke, April 14, 1813, and was baptized July 18, following. As a member of his father's family he removed in 1815 to Westfield and in January 1817 to Hartford, Connecticut.

In August 1825 Captain Alden Partridge, who for several years had been an instructor at the West Point Military Academy, opened at Middletown the "American Literary, Scientific and Military Academy." Among the two hundred and ninety-five names of the cadets in the first catalogue issued in 1826 is that of "J. S. Morgan, Hartford Ct."

From November 1827 to March 1828 he was at Bartlett's school in East Windsor.

April 8, 1829, he went to Boston as clerk for Mr. Alfred Welles, with whom he continued until he was of age. He then returned to Hartford and in July 1834, entered the banking house of Morgan, Ketchum and Company of New York, where he remained until January 1836. Again returning to Hartford, he became, on the eighth of February, a partner in the firm of Howe, Mather and Company, dry-goods merchants. His father paying into the concern as his share the sum of $10,000 (7,000?). February 1, 1850, the firm name was changed to Mather, Morgan and Company, and the firm was dissolved February 1, 1851. He then went to Boston and became a member of the firm of J. M. Beebe, Morgan and Company. At the request of Mr. George Peabody of London, he gave up his business in Boston and, October 1, 1854, became a partner in the London banking house of George Peabody and Company.

Mr. Peabody retired October 1, 1864, when the name was changed to J. S. Morgan and Company, and business is still carried on at the same place 22 Old Broad Street.

In June 1838 the Hartford Young Men's Institute was organized and Mr. Morgan was chosen one of the directors. He was named as one of the incorporators in a charter which was granted by the General Assembly in May 1839. At the annual meeting in June 1839 he was elected second Vice President and the same year made a subscription to the funds of the institution.

In 1841 he subscribed $100 to the building fund of the Wadsworth Athaeneum and was one of the incorporators named in the charter which was granted in May 1842.

December 6, 1843 he was elected a member of the Connecticut Historical Society.

In 1846 he was elected a director of the Phoenix Bank and continued in office three years, when as was the custom he was dropped for one year and was re-elected in 1850 and served one year.

He was a director of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company from June 1836 to June 1841 and for nine years from June 1843. Also a director of the Aetna Insurance Company for two years from June 1852.

For some time he was a member of the Advisory Board of the Hartford Orphan Asylum and made a donation to its funds as a memorial of his mother, who was one of its officers for many years.

He was a private in the First Company, Governor's Foot Guards, from May 1838 until September 1841. It is impossible to ascertain how much longer he served, as the company records are missing from 1841 to 1849.

He will long be held in grateful remembrance by the citizens of Hartford for his princely gift of $150,000 to the funds of the Wadsworth Athaeneum.

He was for many years a communicant of the Episcopal Church and was a vestryman of Christ Church, Hartford, from 1845 to 1849.

Mr. Morgan was married in the Hollis Street Church, Boston, Mass., by Rev. Samuel K. Lothrop, May 2, 1836, to JULIET PIERPONT, daughter of Rev. John and Mary (Lord) Pierpont of Boston. She was born in Baltimore, Maryland, July 30, 1816. At the time of this marriage her father, who was pastor of the church, was absent in Italy.

From the time of his marriage until October 6, 1838, Mr. Morgan resided with his father at No. 26 Asylum Street, when he removed to No. 53 Church Street. His father built for him a house on "Lord's Hill" to which he removed on March 27, 1840. This property, now known as Number 108 Farmington Avenue, was his residence until his removal to Boston in 1854.

Mrs. Juliet (Pierpont) Morgan died at Number 13, Princes Gate, Brompton, London, February 23, 1884.

Junius Spencer Morgan was injured in a runaway accident at Monte Carlo, Monaco, Italy, April 4, 1890 from the effects of which he died four days later. His body was brought to America, and now rests in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford.
